

Perfection cult

"Atoms can't be combined in any manner. It must be done following certain laws. Of all elements, a body only absorbs those that maintain analogy, or, being different, so must be their intervals, directions, connections, collisions and movements. Therefore nature returns to earth those alien elements that cannot combine nor associate with a body". Lucretius (100 years AC).

That is the specialty and leitmotif of Transtechnics, from the crafts, the affection and the yearning of perfection we created the most evolved liposomes, liposomes able to mask active elements in analogous matters accepted by the nature of the receiver, liposomes so evolved that in its wonderful mechanics they are even able to be active elements " Rep se".
